

Dear Exhibitor,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, we are pleased to invite you to take part in the exhibition to be held within the framework of The 83rd Annual Meeting of the Israel Chemical Society. The Meeting and exhibition will be held at the David Intercontinental Hotel in Tel Aviv on February 13-14, 2018. The ICS Meetings are attended by some 800 participants.

This two-day symposium and exhibition, which is organized by Ben-Gurion University of the Negev, will cover all fields of chemistry, including basic and applied sciences. The event will offer outstanding opportunities for scientists, students, R&D researchers and engineers, teachers, government scientists and entrepreneurs, to interact, exchange ideas, share new results, create new collaborative projects, and discover new employment opportunities.

Continuing the ICS tradition of hosting scientific delegations from worldwide top universities, we are happy to host an outstanding team of scientists from leading academic institutes in The Netherlands, including the 2016 Chemistry Nobel prize winner Prof. Ben Feringa, who will present plenary and keynote lectures.

Meeting Topics

Bioorganic and Medicinal Chemistry, Biophysics and Soft Matter, Catalysis in Organic Chemistry, Chemical Biology, Chemical Education, Energy, Inorganic Chemistry, Laser Spectroscopy, Magnetic Resonance, Materials for Energy, Molecular Recognition, Nanotechnology & Nanomaterials, Organic Synthesis, Organometallic Chemistry, Polymer Science, Single Molecules and Supramolecular Chemistry.

For any further details, please contact the ICS83 Exhibition Secretariat, Orit 03-5651345 or conven5@diesenhaus.com
